NOW CONDUCTING ANNUAL SALVATION ARMY APPEAL

The 1952 Annual Appeal of The Salvation Army is being conducted in Bethel under the leadership of the Chairman Carl L. Brown and Treasurer Miss Frances Morrill. A goal of $750.00 has been set for the town.

Letters soliciting contributions have been mailed to all former contributors and it is hoped by the local committee that there will be a generous immediate response by this means.

The vast amount of good done by The Salvation Army requires the support of everyone," said Chairman Brown. "Therefore whatever is given will be gratefully received, deeply and thankfully appreciated by this worthy organization."

A percentage of the funds raised will be left with the local committee to meet immediate local cash needs and the remainder will be sent to the Regional Treasurer for services on a State level to residents of Bethel through such Salvation Army Centers as the Evangelical Bethel Home for unwed mothers, the summer camps operated by the organization, and the Red Shield Clubs for men and women of the Armed Forces.

People who have mislaid or not received a letter are urged to mail their contributions to Miss Frances H. Morrill, Treasurer.

A 12-year-old Rumford boy, Lee Doyle, saved his swimming companion, Lawrence Henry, 10, also of Rumford, from drowning, when he dragged him to safety from Scott's Hole in Swift River and applied artificial respiration.

BLAKE - STEVENS

Miss Charlotte Louise Stevens, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde A. Stevens of Bethel, became the bride of Arthur Harris Blake, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur H. Blake of Brownfield, June 28, at the Methodist Church in Bethel.

Rev David Hickland performed the double ring ceremony. Frank Flint served as organist and Miss Nasta Gordon was soloist.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white satin, the skirt ending in a train. Her veil fell from a coronet of seed pearls, and she carried a white Bible with a white orchid.

Attending her as maid of honor, her sister, Miss Beatrice Stevens, wore an orchid gown. She carried a bouquet of yellow carnations. Bridesmaids were the Misses Shirley D. Blake, sister of the bridegroom, and Janet Mason. They wore light green gowns of the same style as the maid of honor and carried bouquets of pink carnations. All attendants wore head-dresses of net bands matching their gowns.

Flower girls, Florence and Christine Stevens, sisters of the bride, wore organza party dresses of orchid, green, and pink tiers separated by lace insertions.

Roger Francis Blake, brother of the groom, served as best man, and ushers were David James Stevens, brother of the bride, and Owen Stacy, Jr.

Mothers of the bride and bridegroom wore navy dresses with white accessories and corsages of pink carnations.

A reception was held in the church vestry immediately following the ceremony. Miss Pauline Graham had charge of the guest book. Miss Gloria Walker, of the gift table, and serving was in charge of Mrs. Owen Stacy, Jr.

The couple will visit Niagara Falls and Canada on their wedding trip and on their return will reside in Brownfield, where Mr. Blake has employment for the summer. For traveling, the bride wore a grey suit with white accessories and white orchid corsage.

The bride attended local schools and graduated with honors from Gould Academy. After graduation she was employed as secretary at Gould. The bridegroom was graduated from Brownfield schools and New England Institute of Embalming.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cornell and family, who have been at St. Constant, Que., since leaving Bethel last February, will move to South Paris next week where Mr. Cornell is station agent. Miss Jean Cornell and Eric Cornell are guests this week at the home of Jason Smith.

MYRTLE BROOKS LEARNED

The death of Myrtle Brooks Learned came as a distinct shock to her family, host of friends and neighbors, and saddened the little community where she lived, worked and loved so well.

She will be deeply mourned by her family and greatly missed by all who knew her. In her home and the near and dear members of her family lay her complete happiness. It was here that her friends received royal hospitality, for brightening not only the home but serving and loving every needy soul as well as being a comfort to those in trouble seemed to be her aim through life.

"Aunt Myrtle" will always be remembered by the many children with whom she came in contact for she was always ready with her gentle and sweet friendliness to do something to merit their admiration.

Born at Grafton Maine, March 2, 1884, she was the daughter of Albert and Viola Bennett Brooks. She was educated in the schools of Grafton and Andover. She was a member of the Pythian Sisters, and of the Past Chiefs' Club of that town.

1952 ACP AT HALFWAY MARK

The County P. M. A. office at South Paris reminded Maine farmers recently that the half-way mark for the 1952 Agricultural Conservation Program has been reached.

At this point, PMA reported, 8,930 farmers have enrolled in the ACP in Maine, 400 have enrolled in this county and stated their intentions to carry out necessary conservation practices. Other farmers interested in applying conservation and improvement practices under the 1952 ACP may sign up anytime before performing the practices. PMA stated.

Although farmers have until December 31, 1952, to complete the conservation practices under this program, a large part of them have been or soon will be completed. PMA stated.

Orders placed by farmers in Maine for lime, superphosphate, and potash for use in carrying out soil-improving practices total nearly 10 percent of the estimated quantity to be used. In Oxford County, 993 tons of lime, 227 tons of super, and 407 tons of 0-14-14 have been ordered.

Farmers may obtain full information on the 1952 ACP from their PMA committeemen or from the county office. PMA concluded.

ALA WARNS OF DANGER IN ROADSIDE CHANGING OF TIMES AT NIGHT

If you have to stop your car on the road at night to change a tire, you are taking one of the biggest gambles of your life, according to the Automobile Legal Association. Philip C. Thibodeau, ALA general manager, says this type of highway accident is increasing faster than any other. This organization of New England and New Jersey motorists has cautioned its members to take proper precautions during the July 4th holiday week end.

Among the safety devices recommended are the use of a flashlight to signal approaching cars, or portable red reflectors to signal approaching cars, or portable red reflectors placed on the roadway at least 100 feet to the rear. If neither of these are available the waving of a white handkerchief is usually sufficient to warn oncoming drivers.

MRS. CARRIE BARTLETT

Mrs. Carrie Bartlett died about 11 a. m. Saturday. She had been ill about a week.

Born June 21, 1859, at East Bethel, she was the daughter of Nathaniel and Eliza Bean Swan. She married Zenas W. Bartlett, March 16, 1886, and they made their home on the Bartlett homestead at East Bethel. He died in 1917.

Mrs. Bartlett was an honorary member of Alder River Grange and spent much of her time during the later years making quilts and rugs. During the last 10 years, she had made 51 braided rugs and had worked on some of her rugs within a week of the time of her death.

Mrs. Bartlett loved to be busy and enjoyed her work. She took an active interest in the activities of the community and loved to hear all about what her many friends were doing and where they were. She always asked for the young people who left the community to live elsewhere. Her memory will long be held dear by those who knew her.

She is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Edna Bean of Bath; two sons, Urban C. East Bethel, and Z. Willis, Kennebunk; five grandchildren, several nieces and nephews.

Funeral services were held at the Greenleaf funeral home Tuesday at 2 o'clock. Rev. Charles Pendleton officiated. Interment was at East Bethel cemetery.

RAMSEY REYNOLDS

The people of nearby communities as well as the family and neighbors on Sunday River were shocked when it was announced that Ramsey Reynolds had been instantly killed by a falling tree while working in the woods at Ketchum, Thursday morning, June 26.

Ramsey Walton Reynolds was born in Bethel, February 14, 1910, the son of Beattie Spinney Reynolds and the late James W. Reynolds. He attended the Newry schools and for several years he assisted his father on the farm where for a number of years Mr. Reynolds carried on a successful business of raising milk and foxes. During his early manhood he was employed at the Bath Iron Works and during World War II was a foreman in the South Portland Ship Yard.

While employed at Bath he married Miss Lina Helmo of Harrison, Maine. To them were born two children, George and Julie. At the close of the war, Mr. and Mrs. Reynolds, with their children came to Sunday River where they erected a pleasant bungalow in which they have since lived. In recent years and at the time of his death he was engaged in woods operations. Mr. Reynolds was respected by his fellow towns-men as evidenced by the fact that he was serving as one of the selectmen and road commissioner for the town of Newry.

Ramsey will be remembered as a kind neighbor and friend, always ready to lend a helping hand without thought of compensation. His ready wit and sunny disposition made him an asset to any group. Our hearts go out in tender sympathy to the entire Reynolds family, in this second great sorrow within a few months.

Besides his wife and children, he leaves a mother, Mrs. Beattie Reynolds, Newry, and three brothers, Roger and Royal of Bethel and Rethely of Friesen, Calif.

Services were held at the Greenleaf funeral home, Rev. Charles Pendleton officiating. The large attendance was a testimony to his friendship and expression of sympathy to his loved ones. Interment was at the Sunday River Cemetery.

Mr. and Mrs. Millard Learned, Mrs. Jennie Somes and Mrs. Quimby of Lewiston were Sunday callers at P. C. Lapham's.

Ask Caution In Holiday Motoring

Col. Francis J. McCabe, Chief, Maine State Police, has issued an earnest plea to all motorists, urging them to be exceptionally careful on the road during the long Fourth of July weekend.

"The Fourth falls on Friday this year," said Chief McCabe. "This means that most people will be enjoying a long weekend. Many of them will plan to travel. The streets and highways will be crowded with holiday traffic."

"A similar condition existed during the long Memorial Day weekend and this year, six highway deaths resulted. This tragic toll of lives should alert all of us to the extra danger of these holiday periods. We must all recognize the necessity for usual caution to meet the unusual danger during this peak traffic period."

"Excessive speed is a prominent cause of fatal accidents," continued Col. McCabe. "If you are planning a trip, be sure to start in plenty of time, allowing extra time for the traffic conditions. Above all, don't try to make up time on the road. Take your time! Don't speed! Into a fatal accident!"

Philos faith unto him (Jesus).
What is truth? (John 18:26) Read
John 18:23-26.

ONCE a teacher told a class to draw the figure of the Holy Family into Egypt. One small boy handed up a picture of an airplane with four occupants. Three were recognizable as the Holy Family. When the teacher asked who the fourth person was, the boy explained, "Oh, that's Pontius the pilot."

The boy had expressed in his drawing more truth than might at first be seen. Some people do trust the sacred cargo of their faith to the airy flights of their minds and ask, "What is truth?" but do not wait for an answer.

As did Pontius Pilate, many today think that truth is something that can be discovered by the senses. But in the spiritual-minded, truth can be discovered also through faith. Jesus says, "I am the way, the truth, and the life." By our faith in Him, we come to know truth—spiritual truth. Christ is the way of knowing truth by living it out. With Paul, each can testify, "I live; yet not I, but Christ liveth in me." Christ alone is the truth that makes us free.

Prayer

O God, Thou art in Christ reconciling the world unto Thyself. This day purge all bitterness from my heart. I pray for that peace and power which can transform hate into love and enmity into fellowship. Forgive me my trespasses against Thee, through Jesus Christ my Saviour. Amen.

Thought For The Day
Christ alone can strike from us the shackles of sin and set us free.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE
The Lesson Service used in all Churches of Christ, Bethel, is available to everyone who desires to study it.

You are cordially invited to attend the services of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Bethel, in Bethel, or the services of the Bethel church or other churches.

Children Test "What the Father made of God with man, and how we loved him and how they should be his people and God himself should be with them and the Father God." Revelation 21:3

His name as Jesus with anything even remotely as material as the law of supply and demand to name. He and probably that even our present-day descendants in government will be able to.

THE BIBLE says that not even a cup of water given in God's name will go unrewarded. Every act of kindness is a gesture of transcendent worth.

There is a story told about a certain rich man which clearly illustrates how transcendently great a single deed of love may be. Warned that his end was not far off, the rich man ordered everything he owned to be sold and the proceeds to be used to hire a large diamond that he could hold in the hollow of his hand and carry with him even in death.

After his instructions had been carried out, the man fell into a deep sleep and dreamed he stood before the gates of Paradise. To his great dismay, he found he had lost the diamond.

He related his loss to an angel at the gate who told him not to worry, that the good deed he had done would be worth for him more than any amount of diamonds. When he heard this, the man grew even more disturbed. He confessed that he had no memory of any kind set down by him while on earth. "Not even one!" The angel replied.

"Well, I think," said the man, after some reflection, "I once dried an orphan's tear." The angel smiled and replied: "That tear is laid up here for you. Bethel at it sparkles ten times more brilliantly in our sight than all your earthly jewels." The man woke up at this point, and he was so impressed by the dream that he gave orders to have the diamond sold and the money distributed among the poor. Not long afterwards, it is related, he died in great peace of soul.

LOW DOWN FROM HICKORY GROVE

Anybody carrying around the notion that there are no more food things left for this USA Gov't to do, and thereby demonstrate its sock-etchness or anything more polite which you may choose to call Rambo's entire are thinking through their skulls.

Here comes the latest. The paper says that our Military has decided Alaska will be an abandoned game if it should take it in its courage to attack on. Can't be defended says the Military North-west USA Seattle, Portland, Tacoma, could be hit by the Russian. Who is this Military, that is a good and only question for the mayors of Seattle and Tacoma and Portland to probe.

This new abandonment idea cutting loose from Alaska, takes its place alongside such fool notions as "groups under false names" and "Wash. D. C. socialists" games on 130 divers and strike-purposed medicines as a Britain-games and picks lines—the denial of states to run their own change as they are fit—and a few dozen more nonsense notions. All these things point to disaster ahead. We have no choice but to type one and take it if we don't take a hitch in our thinking and act wisely. We must (moment) take action now for the creditless even markets for about up to now, anyway.

The SNAPSHOT GUILD

This picture has received considerable attention as a prize winner in the 1951 Newspaper National Snapshot Awards. Usually this column tells you not to take this type picture because most of them are done so poorly. But this one is published because it is good enough to be chosen as the exception that proves the rule.

It Helps to Know the Language

EVERY field of activity has its own language. Certain words are its exclusive property except when borrowed for other uses. Obviously, if one is going to work in any given field you need to know the terminology, so today's column is given over to a very brief glossary of photographic terms useful to the amateur. These are terms which crop up from time to time in this column and there isn't always room to explain them at the time.

Lens Aperture: The opening through which light enters the camera to make a picture. With many cameras this may be varied in size.

Shutter: The device which opens and closes to permit light to pass through the lens.

Shutter Speed: The time during which the shutter remains open to admit light to the film in the camera. For example, 1/500 of a second.

Exposure: The amount of light to which the sensitive film in the camera is exposed. This is determined by the size of the lens aperture and the shutter speed.

Focal Length: Roughly, the distance from the lens to the film when the camera is focused on distant object.

f Number: A number used to denote the aperture of a lens, as f/8, f/11, or f/16. Since the number represents the ratio of the diameter of the aperture to the focal length of the lens, the smaller numbers represent the larger apertures. On most cameras these are arranged so that each f number (or aperture) admits twice as much light to the film as the next higher f number.

Depth of Field: Also called range of sharpness, depth of field refers to the distance—in a picture scene—from the nearest point in sharp focus to the farthest point in sharp focus. The smaller the lens aperture the greater the depth of field.

Film Speed: This refers to the relative amount of light required to produce a satisfactory negative on different types of film. For example, using two different films to picture the same scene, the exposure with one may be twice the exposure required with the other because the film speeds are different.

MAINE STATE TROOPERS

KNOW THE ANSWERS

When you meet up with one of the blue uniformed State Police in Maine this summer, instead of the expected "Where do you think you're going? Bad, to a fire!" you are apt to be greeted with "Where would you like to go, Sir, to a clam bake?" for every trooper is armed with enough literature and information to qualify him as a traveling information bureau.

As part of the Maine Publicity Bureau's state-wide cooperating information program, each patrol car is equipped with maps, booklets, and weekly bulletins listing special events, road conditions, summer theater schedules, and points of interest to the traveling public.

Hundreds of letters commending the work of the State Police have been received by the Publicity Bureau over the three years that this program has been in effect. Troopers from the Pine Tree State are considered by many of Maine's summer visitors to be the best informed and the most courteous of any in the country.

IRELAND - FLANDERS

Before an assembly of relatives and friends, Miss Shirley Flanders, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David James Flanders of Manchester, N. H., became the bride of Richard F. Ireland, son of Headmaster and Mrs. Elwood F. Ireland of Bethel, at a candlelight ceremony at the Franklin Street Congregational Church, Manchester, June 14.

Rev. George M. Hooten Jr. performed the double ring ceremony before an altar decorated with white gladioli and carnations and music was furnished by Maurice Hoffman Jr., organist.

The bride who was given in marriage by her father was attired in a white nylon gown styled with long pointed sleeves, full skirt with underskirt edged in lace and fitted bodice gathered at the throat with clusters of seed pearls. With it she wore an elbow length veil of white illusion attached to a helmet head-dress of lace and seed pearls. Her bouquet was a cascade arrangement of white orchids, gladioli and stephanotis.

Her maid of honor was Miss Joac Hadley of Springfield, Vt., and bridesmaids were the Misses Barbara Alpaugh of Maplewood, N. J., and the bride's cousin, Cynthia Greig of Syracuse, N. Y. All were similarly clad in pale blue embroidered organza ballroom gowns having short sleeves and sweetheart necklines, offset with shoes of matching blue and beaded dresses of matching veiled bands of forget-me-nots. The bridesmaids carried baskets of golden wonder carnations and sweetheart roses and the maid of honor carried a cascade arrangement of similar flowers.

Jerrold N. Davis of Bethel served as best man and the ushers were Robert Ireland and Dr. Elwood Ireland Jr., brothers of the bridegroom; Gale Shaw of Bangor, Vt., and Lee Carver of Bethel.

Following the ceremony a reception for 150 guests was held at the Manchester Country Club, where

SPORTS CORNER

BETHEL JR. LEGION SPLITS

Bethel lost its first league game to Fryeburg 3 to 2. It was close all the way. Verne Corkum injured his ankle in the 6th inning. Keith Bartlett caught the last two innings. Dick Farrer made a double play from center field to first.

On Tuesday Bethel won over South Paris, 9 to 6. The pitching of Rolfe, Buckman and Captain Skippy Melville has been excellent, but until this game our hitters have been weak. At South Paris everyone got his eye on the ball. Gene White hit the best blow of the year, a towering home run with Ronnie Willard on base.

Next Tuesday, Bethel will begin a three game home series, Norway, Fryeburg and South Paris in that order. All games are at 8:00 p. m. at Thurston Field.

to the bereaved husband whose relationship was unusually close and to whom he bestowed outstanding devotion.

It seems fitting that we pause in the regular routine of our lives to pay tribute to this much loved woman whose untiring devotion, combined with her willing hands have done so much of a courageous nature she overcame obstacles that would have daunted many. Her cheery smile and unselfish deeds for others happiness will ever be an inspiration and a benediction.

Your gentle face and patient smile With address we recall, You had a kindly word for each And died beloved by all. The voice is mute and still the heart.

That loved us well and true, Ah! bitter was the trial to part From one so good as you, But God knew that you were suffering.

That the hills were hard to climb, So he closed your weary eyelids And whispered "Peace be Thine" Away in the beautiful hills of God By the valley of rest so fair, Sometime, someday, we know not when We will meet our loved one there A Nice

NEXT TIME you make sandwiches for a picnic, have your bread or rolls fresh, spread all over with butter or spread so the filling won't leak through and try some new and delightful fillings
for variety.

Peas and butter is always a favorite. Add to it some crisp and crumbled bacon for variety, or chopped raw apple or grated carrots.

Have some cream cheese on hand? Mix with deviled ham and catchup for a delicious spread.
Sliced Bologna is something you'll have frequently. Toss it with cold slaw in a sandwich for its good texture.

RECIPE OF THE WEEK

Savory Beef, Parsleyed Rice
(Serves 6)
3 large onions, sliced
2 tablespoons shortening
2 pounds beef chuck
2 tablespoons flour
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
1/2 teaspoon thyme
2 cups boiling water
2 tablespoons vinegar
1 tablespoon catchup
Fry onions slowly in melted shortening until brown. Cut beef into serving sized pieces. Add to pan, increase heat and brown on both sides. Mix flour with seasoning and sprinkle over meat. Add water, vinegar and catchup. Cover and simmer until meat is tender, about 2 hours.
Serve on a platter with a border of parsleyed rice, made by adding chopped parsley to boiled rice.

Take a hearty sandwich! Combine chopped frankfurters, baked beans, catchup and mustard for the filling. This is delicious in toasted buns.

Chopped, hard-cooked eggs make a good filling when mixed with chopped or ground tongue, grated cheese, prepared mustard and mayonaisse.

Like raw vegetable filling? Chop cabbage and roll with grated carrots and mayonnaise are delicious.

Flaked tuna fish or shrimp combines with cottage cheese. Add some pickled relish to make it last and delicious for a good filling on Vimona bread or crusty rolls.

THE AMERICAN WAY
Social Security Swindle

by George
Peck

EDITOR'S NOTE: George Peck
is Chairman of the Board of the Labor - Management Foundation
and Executive Editor of its official publication, PARTNERS.

The other evening I listened on the radio to Vice-President Alben
W. Barkley. The Veep was in good voice and when he's good, he's awfully good. The gentleman from Kentucky always has had "the gift of gab" and the passing of the years has not dimmed his oratorical powers nor his ability to turn a neat phrase.

Dear Alben was making out a great case for the New-Fair Deal,
and he was quite convincing considering the record of corruption and waste which has been laid at its door. Yes, the Veep, in the face of overwhelming odds, was painting
a beautiful word picture of the glorious achievements of the Administration of which he is a part.

At long last he came to Social Security. That, he maintained, was one of the great, if not the greatest, accomplishment of the New-Fair Deal. Then he went on to say that no Republican candidate would dare to suggest to his electorate that this great boon (?) to the American people be abolished; that any candidate foolish enough to do so would be snowed under.

Right there, if the Veep will pardon me, I wish to take sharp issue with him. On the contrary, I believe that any candidate, be he or she Republican or Democrat, who tells the electorate the truth about Social Security and recommends that it be done away with, will be elected by a landslide. Never has such a hoax been perpetrated on a supposedly enlightened citizenry.

Social Security was conceived in iniquity. It was born in shame and lives on in infamy.

It was conceived as a means of taxing the lower income groups, without their being aware that they were being taxed.

It was born to provide additional three-way money for a profligate bureaucracy.

It lives on to rob the American workingman.

What are the facts about Social Security, that Vice-President Barkley so carefully neglected to tell his radio audience? Read them and weep!

1. To date, more than 20 billion dollars have been paid into the Old-Age and Survivors Insurance Trust Fund (the high-salutin name for Social Security).

2. To date, only slightly more than 6 billion dollars have been paid out in benefits.

3. Present assets of the Fund are listed as $15,210,000,000. Actually, however, there is only 200 million dollars in cash on hand. The remainder consists of IOUs.

4. The difference between the alleged and the actual assets of the Fund have been used by the Federal Government to meet ordinary expenses, such as foreign aid, price supports, salaries, in fact,
for everything but Social Security.

5. In 1940, total expenditures from the Fund were only 600 million dollars. This rose to more than three times that amount in 1950.

6. By 1971, it is estimated that those receiving Social Security pensions will number 10 1/2 million and will be taking a minimum of 10-$20,000,000 each year. That would mean drawing out of the Fund about $2,000,000,000 more each year than is being paid in at present.

7. To meet this deficit, the proposed rate of contribution by employers and employees (15% each)
will have to be greatly increased,
or made up out of the general tax fund.

There is the rundown on Social Security, which will let you see that it is neither social nor secure.
The Vice-President points to it with pride, but every American should view it with alarm.

If any private insurance company had misappropriated funds of equal size the word embezzlement
as the Federal Government has done with the Social Security funds, its officials would all be behind bars
and the company out of business.
As an employee, I feel a sense of guilt every time I make a Social Security deduction from the pay of my employees and I feel like a scoundrel when I make my own contribution to the swindle.

Yes, Mr. Vice-President, contrary to your stated belief, the sure way for a candidate to get himself elected next November is to advertise
the wisdom, honesty and decency in displaying the courage to campaign against this evil thing—the Social Security Swindle.

Peck says there are great corners in the potato vegetable grown in Maine for processing. Similar amounts of corn, carrots and consistencies are also produced.

OUR DEMOCRACY—by Mat

of the noblest documents of human aspirations.

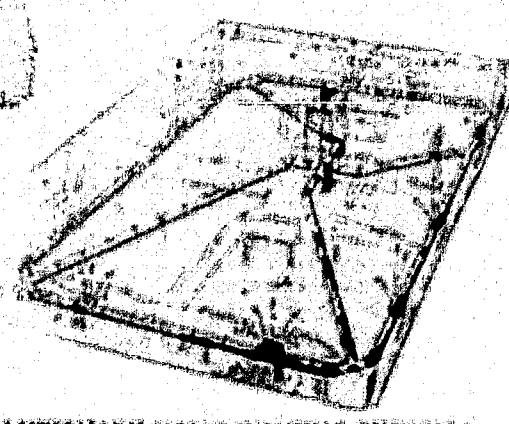

The progress we make, as a free and independent of the individual.

AN ICELESS REFRIGERATOR can

THIS REVOLUTIONARY HOME HEATING SYSTEM is saving homeowners up to 50% in installation costs of material and labor. Vitrified clay pipe, which is a non-critical material and readily available, distributes warm air with minimum heat loss even without insulation. This new heating method combines the favorable factors of radiant heat with forced warm air perimeter heating. Vitrified clay pipe is recognized as the ever-lasting duct material. It is chemically inert, cannot rust, corrode, crumble, disintegrate. It is completely fireproof, rodent proof and termite proof.

A PITCH OF THE STARS

BY LYN CONNELLY

A STARTLING new use of TV, hunting for treasure buried in Davy Jones' locker, is slated for the near future in Scotland. Underwater TV, which helped spot the lost submarine Affray, will help search for Spanish Armada gold. . . . A video version of the prize stage hit "Life With Father" appears near being set at NBC. . . . The Ronald Colmans and their "Halls of Ivy" opus reportedly on the way out unless the sponsor and network can agree on a renewal price.

Producers of a movie based on TV's biggest success, "I Love Lucy" are trying an unusual wrinkle that could set precedent in the trade. . . . They'll use portions of film from shows already telecast in the movie. . . . One way to save money, although it will be rather hard on the people who have already seen the telecast parts. . . . Jack Benny will do a vaudeville stint in Scotland this summer. . . . NBC would like Maurice Chevalier for next fall's lineup on "All Star Revue". . . . Negotiations to get the French star are now in progress. Trade gossip has it that Fred Allen will finally come into his own as quizmaster of "Two for the money" which has been filling for NBC. . . . Fred, a very versatile and talented comedian, has found the going rough in the new medium. . . . We do hope these rumors are well-founded this time as Fred certainly deserves a good break from the show business he helped foster.

Radio's biggest little show—"Curt Massey Time"—began its fourth year on the air this month. . . . Launched on the air in June, 1949, with 130 CBS stations, the popular Monday through Friday musical program has racked up a phenomenal growth, both in popularity and the number of stations. . . . Today, Curt, Martha Tilton and Country Washburne's ark are heard on more than 700 CBS and Mutual stations in the U.S. and around the world via Radio Luxembourg and Armed Forces Radio Service.

GOV. PAYNE DESIGNATES

JULY 28-AUG. 2 AS

"MAINE PRODUCTS WEEK"

Governor Frederick G. Payne has designated the week of July 28 to August 2 as "Maine Products Week" drive will be conducted during the period of July 28-August 2, and once again I urge the citizens of Maine to cooperate with the Maine State Chamber of Commerce and local Chambers of Commerce who are sponsoring this drive to aid existing business and to encourage new industries to locate in Maine.

"This is a most commendable effort and deserves the full cooperation of all merchants, newspapers and radio stations—as Maine's economy depends on publicizing our products. We are especially fortunate this year to have the cooperation of Jordan Marsh Company in Boston in conjunction with the State in sponsoring a Maine exhibit," said Governor Payne.
